

Initial Design

Revised Design

Design Decisions

- All addresses are broken down into address components to facilitate search.
- Customers can have zero to many work orders so that customers can be registered before the work order has been agreed on.
- All work orders must track the status of a task and all work order include material orders.